Bar Admission Checklist

The Georgia bar admissions process is a lengthy, two-step process that requires the submission of two separate applications, each with separate deadlines and fees. Bar applicants must file both an application for Certification of Fitness to Practice Law in Georgia and a bar exam application. Here's what you need to know and do for Georgia Bar admission:

□ Complete Character and Fitness Application | While In Law School

To become eligible for Admission to the Practice of Law in Georgia, an individual must receive Certification of Fitness by the Georgia Board to Determine Fitness of Bar Applicants. You should complete this while you are still in school to maximize savings. You can also register following graduation in the same manner, paying the applicable fee and providing any required supplemental documents. Once obtained, your Certification of Fitness is good for five years, allowing you to take the bar exam any time after obtaining it.

You will be asked to disclose details about your academic, work, and financial history, as well as any criminal record and civil proceedings. Candor is key. You will also need to include references, your final law school transcripts, driving record, birth certificate, passport and fingerprints.

Your application will be investigated based on the answers you provide, and additional facts discovered in the course of the investigation. Upon completion of the fitness investigation, your Fitness Application will be presented to the Board to Determine Fitness for a determination of your eligibility to practice law.

Deadlines and associated registration fees:

□ Create an NCBE Account | Before Bar Exam Application

My NCBE Number

All law students are required to create an NCBE Account that comes with a unique NCBE Number for identification purposes. You will need this number to take the MPRE (Multistate Professional Responsibility Exam) and the MBE. (Multistate Bar Exam), which are developed by the NCBE (National Conference of Bar Examiners). The MBE is administered on day two of the Georgia Bar Exam.

Register with the NCBE at: <https://auth.ncbex.org/account/create>

Take the MPRE | Multistate Professional Responsibility Exam

We recommend taking the MPRE any time during 2L year or as early in your 3L year as possible. A scaled score of 75 on the MPRE is required for admission to the Georgia bar. The score must be attained prior to the Issuance of a Certificate for Eligibility for Admission to the Practice of Law. Your passing MPRE score must be submitted to the Georgia Board of Bar Examiners.

The MPRE is a two-hour, 60-question multiple-choice exam developed by the NCBE and administered in the spring, summer, and fall. When registering for the MPRE, students can select one of two dates offered at a time (see chart below) on a first come, first served basis.

MPRE dates	Registration deadline (fee: $160)	Scan for more information
November 7 or 8, 2024	September 18, 2024
March 26 or 27, 2025	January 23, 2025
August 20 or 21, 2025	June 18, 2025

□ Follow Helpful Tips | Guidance You Can Use

Book your hotel room as soon as possible. Rooms for the July bar exam, for example, are typically sold out by September or October of the previous year.

Bring an extension cord in case your laptop charger does not reach the provided outlet.

Lunch options are limited at the Convention Center where the Georgia bar exam is administered. If your school is not providing lunch, plan to find something close by or leave yourself enough time to wait in the lines for something to eat.

Visit the Convention Center on Monday so you're not overwhelmed on Tuesday morning – the first day of the bar exam. This is also a great opportunity to scope out lunch options.
